

VH1453 Council on Immigrant Child and Family Health Program Immigration as a Social and Political Driver of Health

Monday, October 11

1:00 PM – 3:00 PM CDT

Immigration is a key social and political driver of health. This program will describe health outcomes and service utilization among children in immigrant families, how race and immigration intersect to impact health policy and outcomes, and how pediatricians can engage with community partners to mitigate the impact of these systemic inequities.

- | | |
|---------|--|
| 1:00 PM | Welcome
Moderator: Lanre Falusi, MD, FAAP |
| 1:05 PM | Health Outcomes and Service Utilization Among Immigrant Children and Families
Fernando Mendoza, MD, MPH, FAAP |
| 1:25 PM | Race and Immigration Status as Drivers of Health Disparities
Jacqueline Dougé, MD, MPH, FAAP |
| 1:50 PM | Community Partnerships to Mitigate Systemic Inequities Affecting Immigrant Children and Families
Thu Quach, PhD |
| 2:15 PM | Q&A
Moderator: Sural Shah, MD, MPH, FAAP |
| 2:45 PM | Council Business Meeting
Raul Gutierrez MD, FAAP; Julie Linton MD, FAAP |
| 3:00 PM | Adjourn |