

H2612 Section on Adolescent Health Program

Protecting the Sexual Well-Being of Adolescents: Strategies for Promoting Sexual Health While Navigating Potential Pitfalls

Saturday, October 3
3:00PM – 7:00PM CDT

Pediatricians are in an ideal position to help protect the sexual well-being of adolescents. Providing a positive approach to sexuality can reduce the negative impact of pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections. This program will show practitioners how to promote sexual health while navigating potential pitfalls in teenage patients.

- 3:00PM Welcome, Opening Remarks, and Brief Section Update
Moderators: Peggy Stager, MD, FAAP; Jonathan Fanburg, MD, MPH, FAAP; and Paritosh Kaul, MD, FAAP
- 3:15PM Biomedical Strategies for Dual Prevention of Pregnancy and STIs in a Behavioral World
Andrea Hoopes, MD, MPH, FAAP
- 3:50PM Richard B. Heyman Award Presentation
Recipient: Krishna Upadhyia, MD, FAAP
- 4:00PM Break
- 4:10PM Public Health, Sex Positivity, and Sexual Well-Being: Reflections on Trauma-Responsive Sexual Health
J Dennis Fortenberry, MD, MS
- 4:45PM Emerging Leader Award Presentation
Recipient: Scott Hadland, MD, MPH, MS, FAAP
- 4:55PM Break
- 5:00PM Update on Sexually Transmitted Infections in Adolescents: What Pediatricians Need to Know About Diagnosis, Treatment, and Prevention
Errol Fields, MD, PhD, MPH, FAAP
- 5:40PM Adele Dellenbaugh Hofmann Award
Recipient: Maria Trent, MD, MPH, FAAP
- 5:50PM Panel Discussion
Andrea Hoopes, MD, MPH, FAAP; J Dennis Fortenberry, MD, MS; Errol Fields, MD, PhD, MPH, FAAP
- 6:15PM Post Program Celebration of Awardees and Dr Fanburg